

Annabella Campiotti

Graduate in 1984 in Medicine and Surgery at University of Study of Milan with first-class honours .

In 1987 she specializes in Dentistry and Dental Prothesis at University of Study of Milan with first-class honours.

In 1999 she obtains a Master in Periodontal Surgery at University of Study of Milan – San Paolo Hospital.

From 1984 she becomes a Doctor at the Internal Medicine and Immunology department of Policlinico Hospital of Milan.

Official Technical Consultant n. 11641 for the Court of Justice of Milan

Author of science publications and texts on medical-scientific subjects.

From graduation she practises as a Doctor of General Medicine, working both at her studio in Milan and at “La Madonnina”, “Città di Milano” and “Capitano” clinics for hospitalizations and check-ups.

At present she practices also at “Hospitadella medical centre”, devoting special attention to the aspects of anti-aging medicine, to the preventive activity on oxidative stress, to homotoxicological medicine and to innovative therapies such as biorevitalization, fillers, laser, thermage and radio frequencies for an accurate program of physical, psychic and social well-being in synergy with a team of medical specialists.

MEMBER OF A.M.I.A (Italian Doctors Antiaging Association) (Associazione Medici Italiani Antiaging)

MEMBER OF SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY AMWC 2010 (World Anti-Aging Medicine)

MEMBER OF SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY EMAA 2010 (European Master Aesthetic & Anti-Aging Medicine)